BABU'S BANTER

By M.V. Nagendra Babu

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

CHALLENGE YOURSELF WITH A VOW: The Bhagawath Purana has a story of King Ambareesh, an ardent Vishnu devotee and a strict observer of the ekadashi vrata. Once he invites Sage Durvasa, well-known for his short temper, to partake of meals on the morning following ekadashi.

As sage Durvasa fails to turn up at the breakfast muhurat, worthy pandits advise the king to consume the holy water (theertha) and continue to wait for the sage.

Durvasa just then arrives and is blinded by anger seeing the king consuming the holy water and assuming that the king would have had lunch too, invokes a demon to kill the king. But Lord Vishnu's sudarshan chakra kills the demon and chases sage Durvasa, who initially runs to all the demi gods and ultimately to Lord Vishnu to save him.

Lord Vishnu says he is unable to save him as he is primarily his devotee's protector and instructs the sage to seek the king's pardon. The ekadashi vrata — a fortnightly fast along with mindful prayers observed by the devout — has tremendous potency and is supposed to absolve a human from all sin and assures one of Lord Vishnu's protection at all times.

In general, any vow or penance disciplines the body and mind, inculcating determination and willpower towards commitment. Taking vows like not speaking to a person or not visiting a place due to a past incident reflect negativity and it does not matter if they are broken. A vow is a pledge to oneself and tests one's sincerity and truthfulness as an individual.

One's character is slowly moulded based on the vow one takes and later maintains with courage in the face of any opposition. For instance, a simple vow to go for a walk every evening is a good example and when you involve a friend to accompany you the vow touches the two of you.

Pledging a certain portion of one's income towards charity is a vow that kindles generosity — an altruistic mindset. When such positive vows are undertaken they become inspirational and motivational to others. Gandhiji's vows of fasting to drive home a point to the British raj are renowned. He said, "A vow is a purely religious act which cannot be taken in a fit of passion. It can be taken only with a purified and composed mind with God as witness."

World's largest Lego sausage assembled

Berlin: A German man assembled 65,000 Lego bricks into the shape of a bratwurst and bun to break the Guinness World Record for the largest Lego brick sausage.

Tommy Schmidt, 45, said the idea for the unusual project came from sausage producer Die Thüringer.

He said the record attempt paid tribute to his home region.

"In my home region of Thuringia in Germany, the bratwurst is a local specialty that has since become known around the world. Together with the meat and sausage producer Die Thüringer we wanted to create a tribute to the famous bratwurst and to our region," Schmidt said.

World's oldest tortoise is 194 years

St. Helena: The world's oldest living land animal, a tortoise named Jonathan, extended his record to 194 years and was officially named a Guinness World Records Icon.

The record-keeping organization said Jonathan, a Seychelles giant tortoise living on the island of St. Helena, was a full-grown adult of at least 50 years when he arrived at St. Helena from the Seychelles in 1882.

His birth year is estimated to be 1832 at the latest, but researchers believe he might be even older.

Jonathan, aka Jono, has lost his vision and sense of smell but he continues to eat, sunbath and mate, his caretakers said.

"He has met royalty, starred in wedding photographs, and delighted tourists. But for Saints, he is a symbol of the enduring resilience of this island and its commitment to protecting the environment," St. Helena Governor Nigel Phillips said.

Save Kukkarahalli Lake
before it becomes history

Sir,

Kukkarahalli Lake, located in the heart of Mysuru, is considered a walker's paradise and a unique biodiversity zone, home to a variety of exotic birds and butterflies. It was once a favourite haunt of poets and intellectuals and inspired Kuvempu to compose his celebrated poem, "Doni Sagali..."

It is perhaps the only place in Mysuru where thousands of people gather for morning and evening walks. The lake is also a major tourist attraction.

In earlier years, the lake was a popular spot for learning to swim. However, swimming is no longer permitted as crocodiles are now found in the water. It is learnt that a few years ago, during heavy rains, crocodiles being kept nearby for experimental purposes entered the lake, following which swimming activities were stopped.

Unfortunately, the lake is fast losing its sheen. Unless urgent measures are taken, it may lose its pristine character and eventually share the fate of several other lakes in Mysuru that have fallen into neglect.

The lake is under the control of the University of Mysore. Owing to lack of adequate funds, the University is reportedly finding it difficult to maintain it. Though sewage inflow has been reduced considerably, it has not been eliminated.

The bird population is also said to be declining as fishing has not been banned in the lake, resulting in a shortage of small fish that serve as food for many bird species. Media reports have highlighted increasing pollution levels, which have allegedly led to the death of birds. At one point, a large crocodile was also found dead, reportedly due to pollution.

During 'Parisara Habba' held on the 14th of this month, around 40 nature lovers, including myself, participated in a walk around Kukkarahalli Lake. During the walk, Prof. U.N. Ravikumar explained the historical significance of the lake, which once served the Mysore Sandalwood Factory.

Over the years, several reports have appeared in the media expressing concern over the deterioration of the lake. It is high time that a separate Lake Authority is constituted to rejuvenate this magnificent water body. Unless the authorities take pride in preserving it, there is a genuine fear that Kukkarahalli Lake may one day become history.

Congress wins 5 of 7 MLC seats

Cross voting hurts BJP-JD(S) combine

Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar congratulating Congress Party's newly elected MLCs B.K. Hariprasad, B.S. Shivanna, P.V. Mohan, Thippannappa Kamaknoor and Vinay Karthik after their victory at the Vidhana Soudha on Thursday as AICC General Secretary Randeep Surjewala and other Congress leaders look on. Picture right shows newly elected BJP MLCs Raghu R. Kautilya and Lingaraj Patil being congratulated by State BJP President B.Y. Vijayendra, Opposition Leader in the Assembly R. Ashok, Opposition Leader in the Legislative Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy, MLA C.C. Patil, former Kolar MP Muniswamy and other BJP leaders at Vidhana Soudha yesterday.

Bengaluru, June 19-A fortnight after taking over as the Chief Minister of the State, D.K. Shivakumar cleared the first 'litmus test' with flying colours on Thursday as he steered all the five Congress candidates to victory in the biennial Legislative Council polls from the MLAs quota.

With this win, the ruling Congress enjoys a majority in the Upper house with 39 MLCs in the 75-member house, which gives the party fresh oxygen now in the Legislative Council.

While the Congress won five seats, the BJP won two seats as expected. The JD(S), which entered the fray in a bid to deny the Congress its fifth seat, was in for a shock as the party candidate bites the dust.

The victorious Congress candidates are: KPCC President B.K. Hariprasad, Thippannappa Kamaknoor, P.V. Mohan, B.S. Shivanna (Malavalli Shivanna) and Vinay Karthik, while the successful BJP candidates are: Raghu R. Kautilya and Lingaraj Patil.

The JD(S) candidate Govindaraj fared poorly, securing just 14 votes.

However, the biggest statement of the day came from the performance of CM's close aide Vinay Karthik, who secured the highest number of votes at 32, outpolling his four other senior party functionaries B.K. Hariprasad, B.S. Shivanna, Thippannappa Kamaknoor (30 votes each) and P.V. Mohan (29 votes).

Raghu Kautilya of the BJP bagged 29 votes while the party's other candidate Lingaraj Patil got 27 votes and Govindaraj of the JD(S), which has 18 members in the Assembly, could manage just 14 votes.

Cross voting

The speculation over cross voting came true with Congress easily winning all the five seats that it had contested, gathering 11 votes through cross voting from the NDA partners in the State-BJP and JD(S).

While the BJP lost at least three votes in cross voting, leaving the party red-faced, the JD(S) suffered an embarrassing defeat losing at least four votes.

Chamundi Hill gets special cleanup drive

Temple, Forest Department join hands in three-shift cleanliness drive

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&BS)-

Nitesh Patil

Following a social media campaign highlighting the growing waste menace atop Chamundi Hill, Sri Chamundeshwari Temple Development Authority has intensified cleanliness efforts by launching a special drive at the Hill shrine.

The initiative was taken following directions from MCC Administrator Nitesh Patil, who also serves as Mysuru Regional Commissioner, who took note of videos circulating on social media showing heaps of garbage littered across the Hill, a major religious and tourist destination.

Acting swiftly, Temple Authority Secretary M.J. Roopa and Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) K. Paramesh stepped up efforts to ensure effective implementation of the cleanliness drive.

Waste was found scattered around key locations, including Chamundi Temple premises, Mahishasura statue area, bus stand, parking lot, temple road and along the steps leading to the shrine from the foothill. In response, the authorities have decided to undertake cleaning operations in three shifts.

Directive to vendors

Additional sanitation personnel have been deployed with instructions to collect plastic bottles, carry bags and other waste discarded in and around the temple premises and other public areas. Vendors, including sellers of puja materials, hoteliers and canteen operators, have also been directed to maintain cleanliness and ensure proper waste disposal.

Although Chamundi Hill has been declared a plastic-free zone, the continued use and improper disposal of single-use plastic remains a concern.

Environmentalists point out that since the temple precincts are surrounded by reserve forest under the jurisdiction of the Forest Department, coordinated action by both the Temple Authority and Forest officials is essential to effectively tackle the problem.

Nitesh Patil said that apart from social media posts, several individuals had personally brought the issue of waste accumulation on Chamundi Hill to his notice.

"The matter was discussed with the Temple Authority and the Forest Department and directions were issued to maintain cleanliness. The Temple Authority has launched a special cleanliness drive. Along with the authorities, devotees and tourists visiting the Hill should also cooperate in keeping the surroundings clean," he said.

Tree-cutting was for train, passenger safety: Railways

Mysuru, June 19 (BCT)- Responding to reports published in the media regarding tree-cutting and trimming activities near Kukkarahalli Lake, the Railways has clarified that the exercise was undertaken solely as a safety measure to protect railway infrastructure and ensure uninterrupted train operations.

According to the Railways, several trees located close to the 25 kV Overhead Equipment (OHE) lines posed a risk during strong winds and monsoon conditions. Falling trees or branches could damage the overhead lines, affecting train services and compromising passenger safety.

Pre-monsoon safety drive

As part of a pre-monsoon safety drive, around 12 vulnerable trees were removed and branches were trimmed at eight locations, all within railway premises. The Railways stated that the exercise was carried out purely in the interest of operational safety.

The Railways pointed out that several incidents of fallen trees damaging overhead electrification infrastructure had been reported over the past year, leading to disruptions in train services. In a recent incident on May 16, 2026, a fallen tree damaged nearly 2 kms of the overhead equipment in the Kadakola-Nanjangud Town section.

Officials said the Mysuru-Ashokapuram single-line section is operationally critical and even minor disruptions can significantly affect train punctuality and passenger services. Owing to continuous train movements, obtaining maintenance blocks is difficult, making preventive measures necessary.

Passenger safety

The Railways also refuted reports suggesting that the tree-cutting activity was linked to the proposed National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) Road Under Bridge (RUB) project, describing such reports as incorrect and misleading. It maintained that the exercise was carried out exclusively to ensure the safety of railway assets and passengers.

The Railways further stated that, under a Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change communication dated March 10, 2022, prior permission is not required for tree-cutting within railway premises when undertaken for train safety.

It also cited Sections 11 and 14 of the Railways Act, 1989, which empower the Railway Administration to remove obstructions or potential hazards affecting train operations. The Railways maintained that the action taken was lawful, necessary and in the interest of public safety and smooth train operations.

Lalitha Mahal Grounds ownership settled by Courts: Pramoda Devi

Mysuru, June 19- Member of the erstwhile Mysore Royal Family, Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, has clarified that the land in Survey No. 4 of Kurubarahalli, often referred to as Lalitha Mahal Grounds or Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MDA) Grounds, has been declared private property of the erstwhile Mysore Royal Family by the Courts.

Pramoda Devi

Reacting to the front page news item published in Star of Mysore yesterday, Pramoda Devi Wadiyar has issued the following clarification.

"This is in connection with the news report dated 18.06.2026 which appeared in the Star of Mysore evening daily with the headline Fencing Won't Stop Us: Lalitha Mahal Grounds will be used for parking this Ashada too. It remains under the MDA control despite ownership dispute: Dy. Commissioner."

"I wish to clarify that the entire extent of land bearing Survey No.4 of Kurubarahalli, Kasaba Hobli, Mysuru has been held as private property of the Maharaja of Mysore by the Hon'ble High Court of Karnataka in W.P No.25592/2015. Therefore, calling the land Lalitha Mahal Grounds/MDA Grounds is incorrect and misleading. MDA has no claim over any extent of land in the said survey number."

"I would like to bring to your notice that the Hon'ble High Court of Karnataka in its order dated 19.06.2020 in W.P. No.25592/2015 categorically held Survey No.4 of Kurubarahalli along with Survey No.41 of Alanahalli and Survey No.39 of Chowdahalli, Kasaba Hobli as private properties of the Maharaja and directed the revenue and municipal authorities to delete the 'B' Kharab status in the revenue records."

"The said judgment was upheld by the Division Bench and the same was also confirmed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in SLP No.3670/2021."

"Further, the District Administration has not approached me to seek permission to use the land for parking during Ashada and the same was communicated to the evening daily by my office when contacted on 18.06.2026."

"Time and again, this kind of sensational news keeps appearing, which leads to confusion besides misleading the general public."

Thanking you,
Pramoda Devi Wadiyar

Council polls were a test of loyalty for JD(S) MLAs: HDK

'Cross voting was expected, not surprising'

Mysuru, June 19 (BLU&DM)- Asserting that the JD(S) would take action against party MLAs who cross-voted in the Legislative Council elections held yesterday, Union Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) said the party had fielded a candidate in the polls primarily to test the loyalty of its legislators, despite anticipating cross voting.

Addressing a press conference at a private hotel in Mysuru this morning, Kumaraswamy, who is also the State President of the JD(S), declined to comment directly on dissident Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda (GTD), who is widely suspected to have cross-voted.

"We expected cross voting in Legislative Council polls. But I was not disturbed by it. I have information about the four MLAs who have cross-voted. I have also learnt that they are preparing to leave JD(S). Those who wish to quit are free to do so. The JD(S) knows how to nurture a new generation of leaders," Kumaraswamy said.

No comments on GTD: Stating that the party would give greater importance to Gen-Z in its organisational structure, he said JD(S) was ready to field new faces in future polls. HDK appeared visibly upset when reporters repeatedly sought his views on the future of GTD and urged them not to raise the MLA's name.

"I have not mentioned that person's name anywhere, including during the recent party convention held in the Chamundeshwari Assembly Constituency. While some party leaders may have tried to counsel him on their own, it is I, as the State President, who may have to take some tough decisions," he added.

MCC nets Rs. 168.84 crore Property Tax in 2.5 months

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&BCT) - The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has collected Rs. 168.84 crore in Property Tax during the first two-and-a-half months of the current 2026-27 financial year.

Officers said that the collection has given the civic body a strong start and raises hopes of a record revenue collection this year.

According to MCC data, the amount was collected between April 1 and June 16. Officials attributed the encouraging response to the five percent early-bird rebate offered to taxpayers and the growing use of online payment systems, which have prompted property owners to clear their dues early.

The collection achieved so far has already exceeded the total annual Property Tax revenue recorded in 2020-21, when MCC collected Rs. 120.16 crore and has also surpassed the Rs. 162.43 crore collected during 2021-22.

MCC officials said the steady rise in revenue over the years reflects improvements in tax administration. Property Tax collections increased from Rs. 120.16 crore in 2020-21 to Rs. 162.43 crore in 2021-22 and Rs. 168.56 crore in 2022-23. The upward trend continued in 2023-24, when collections touched Rs. 183.93 crore.

In 2024-25, MCC crossed the Rs. 200-crore mark for the first time, collecting Rs. 229.11 crore. The momentum continued in 2025-26, when Property Tax revenue reached a record Rs. 241.40 crore.

Officials said the growth has been driven by a combination of factors, including expansion of the tax base, door-to-door collection drives and improvements in digital infrastructure, making tax payment easier and more convenient for citizens.

With more than nine months remaining in the current financial year, MCC is optimistic of surpassing last year's collections.

Record tax collection in Mysuru

The Mysuru City Corporation's 5 percent tax rebate campaign has received an encouraging response from citizens. Between April 1 and June 16, the civic body collected Rs. 168.84 crore in Property Tax and Rs. 17.10 crore in water and sewerage charges, taking the total collection to Rs. 185.94 crore.

— Nitish Patil, Regional Commissioner and MCC Administrator

Water and UGD charges

According to official data compiled up to June 10, 2026, for the current 2026-27 fiscal year, the Corporation has already collected Rs. 17.1 crore from water and UGD fees.

The year-wise statistics reveal that during the 2021-22 financial year, collections stood at Rs. 61.26 crore. The following year, 2022-23, revenue rose sharply to Rs. 78.2 crore.

The MCC registered a collection of Rs. 73.52 crore in 2023-24 and Rs. 75.51 crore in 2024-25. In the 2025-26 financial year, it collected Rs. 82.88 crore.

MCC currently has jurisdiction over 2,32,812 properties. Out of these registered holdings, a majority of 2,11,491 properties are classified as authorised, while 21,321 are listed as unauthorised.

In terms of property documentation, the MCC has so far distributed a total of 72,086 Khatas, bringing the overall Khata distribution completion to 32.3 percent. The civic body has issued 65,913 A-Khatas and 6,173 B-Khatas to property owners across the city.

District Police form 17 anti-rowdy squads

Superintendent of Police (SP) Mallikarjun Baladandi instructing the Police personnel at the weekly parade held at District Armed Reserve (DAR) Police Grounds in city, as Additional SP C. Mallick and other Police personnel look on.

Mysuru, June 19 (BS)- As part of a drive to keep a close watch on habitual offenders and anti-social elements, the Mysuru District Police have constituted 17 Anti-Rowdy Squads across the district.

According to a press release issued by the office of the Superintendent of Police (SP), the initiative aims to monitor rowdy elements, reform them and bring them into the mainstream of society.

A total of 17 Anti-Rowdy Squads have been constituted, including four at the Circle-level and 13 at Police Stations across the district.

The Circle-level squads will be headed by Circle Police Inspectors (CPIs), while the Station-level squads will function under the leadership of Police Inspectors.

Each squad will comprise five personnel, including Police officers. The Deputy Superintendents of Police (Dy.SPs) of the respective sub-divisions will supervise the functioning of the squads.

Explaining the action plan, the SP said the squads will review old criminal cases and open rowdy sheets against persons involved in criminal activities wherever necessary.

Active rowdy-sheeters and their associates will be kept under constant surveillance and preventive action will be initiated to curb their activities.

The squads will also monitor prison inmates and persons released from jails. Periodic rowdy parades will be conducted and undertakings will be obtained from rowdy-sheeters to execute peace bonds.

Goonda Act invoked against history-sheeter with 9 cases

Mysuru, June 19 (BCT)- Mysuru City Police have intensified their crackdown on habitual offenders by placing a notorious rowdy-sheeter under preventive detention under the Goonda Act.

According to a press release issued by the office of the City Police Commissioner, K. Kaushik, 28, a resident of Janatha Street in Koorgalli, was arrested under the provisions of the Karnataka Control of Organised Crimes and Goonda Act following his involvement in a series of serious criminal offences.

Active within the Vijayanagar Police Station limits, Kaushik has been named in nine criminal cases registered across multiple jurisdictions. These include two cases each in Vijayanagar and H.D. Kote and one case each in Channapatna Rural and Yelwal.

The charges against him include attempted murder, culpable homicide not amounting to murder, dacoity, assault with deadly weapons and criminal intimidation.

Police said that despite repeated legal action and opening of a rowdy sheet against him, Kaushik continued to engage in criminal activities.

To prevent further offences and maintain public order, the Mysuru City Police Commissioner ordered his detention under the Goonda Act. He has been lodged in Kalaburagi Central Prison.

The Police have warned that similar stringent action will be taken against other rowdy elements involved in criminal activities in the city.

Anti-rowdy squads deployed across Mysuru

Each squad will comprise a minimum of four personnel, taking the total strength of the initiative to 108 officers and staff. The number of personnel in a squad will vary depending on the number of rowdy-sheeters under the jurisdiction of a particular Police Station.

For instance, Lakshmipuram Police Station, which has 13 rowdy-sheeters on its records, will have a squad comprising one PSI and three personnel. Police Stations with higher number of rowdy-sheeters will have larger squads with up to five members, City Police Commissioner said.

Digital fingerprints, financial profiling: The Top Cop said the Police will also collect digital fingerprints of rowdy-sheeters and assess their financial status to facilitate closer monitoring and timely preventive action. In addition to the squads formed at Police Station and Sub-Division levels, a city-level Anti-Rowdy Squad has also been constituted. The squad will function under the Deputy Commissioner of Police (Law and Order) and will be supervised by the City Crime Branch (CCB).

Deputy Commissioner of Police (Crime and Traffic) K.S. Sundar Raj was present.

'700 rowdy-sheeters in city'

Mysuru, June 19 (PM&BS)- In all, there are 700 rowdy-sheeters in the Police Commissionerate's jurisdiction in the city, with rowdy-sheet being opened against drug peddlers too, said City Police Commissioner Seema Latkar.

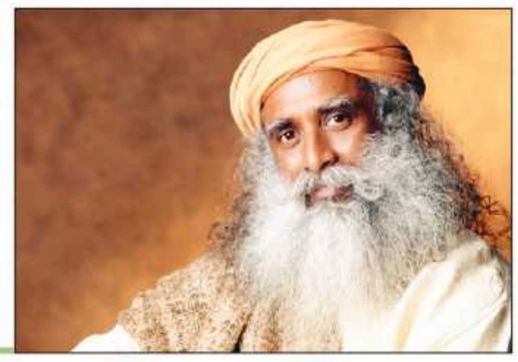
MYSTIC'S MUSINGS

By Sadhguru - Founder, Isha Foundation



Dhyanalinga - Isha Foundation

June 24 marks the anniversary of the day when the consecration of the Dhyanalinga was finally complete.

Sadhguru: Dhyanalinga is not a place of worship. It is a place of meditation. Meditation is not an act, it is not something that you do. It is something that you can become. Meditation will not happen because you make an effort. If you cultivate the body, mind, emotion and energies to a certain point of maturity, you will naturally become meditative.

So, for those who are coming to the Dhyanalinga, we are setting up simple procedures. The steps are designed such that when someone presses the soles of their feet on the steps, it activates the system in a certain way. Another thing is that when you are trying to go to the next step, when you raise your leg beyond a certain point and press down and push your weight up, your muladhara opens up — it gets the necessary stimulation.

The next time you climb something high, just notice how the whole area around the muladhara gets stimulated by pressing down the feet in a particular way, which is very important if one wants to become meditative.

If you came to a yoga programme, you would have done this with various practices. But most people who come to Dhyanalinga have not been instructed into any kind of meditation. But when they simply go and sit there, they think they are going to sit there for five minutes but they end up sitting there for hours.

Dhyanalinga has the possibility that without instruction, it can make you meditative. But some preparation and receptivity is needed in the body. The whole structure of the Dhyanalinga space is made such that in many ways, it prepares your system to become meditative.

Dhyanalinga is a living being because it has come with all the seven chakras. It is just that there is no physical body. Dhyanalinga is like the energy body of the highest kind of being possible, like a yogi sitting there. Or to put it in traditional terms, we created Shiva himself. The idea is that people have a live guru forever.

To do your sadhana in the intimacy of a guru is very different from doing your sadhana by yourself. Very few people get that opportunity because it is physically impossible to provide that all the time. But with Dhyanalinga, everyone has that opportunity. Even if you don't know anything about meditation, if you just sit there for a few minutes, you will become meditative without a single instruction because the very nature of the energy is such.

Skeptics will suffer from this idea, but in theory, it is possible to create a physical body over this subtle body. We can create a huge, fantastic human being. But it is too elaborate a process to attempt. Right now he is fine without the physical body — he reverberates very powerfully. Once you build a physical body, he comes with all the limitations of the physical body. If there is no physical body, there is no problem of time span. A nonphysical super human being is better than a physical super human being because he stays for thousands of years.

Yaduveer seeks urban forest project for Thippayyanakere

Mysuru, June 19 (BCT)- Mysuru-Kodagu MP Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar has urged the Union Government to support the development of an urban forest at Thippayyanakere in Mysuru and take stronger measures to address the growing human-elephant conflict in Kodagu.

During a meeting with Union Minister for Environment, Forest and Climate Change Bhupender Yadav in New Delhi recently, the MP submitted two separate petitions highlighting the issues.

Seeking inclusion of Thippayyanakere, located near Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel Nagar on Mysuru's Outer Ring Road, under the Centre's Nagar Van (Urban Forest) scheme, Yaduveer said the lake has emerged as an important ecological and recreational asset for the city.

He noted that the area serves as a green lung for residents while supporting a variety of bird species and other wildlife.

Given its biodiversity and environmental significance, he said, Thippayyanakere would be an ideal site for development under the Urban Forest initiative and sought technical and financial assistance from the Ministry.

The MP said the Nagar Van scheme aims to create forests within urban areas to improve ecological balance, enhance biodiversity and promote environmental awareness.

Bringing the project to Mysuru would increase the city's green cover, support conservation efforts, provide educational opportunities for students and contribute to public health, he added.

Human-elephant conflict in Kodagu

Yaduveer also drew the Minister's attention to the increasing incidents of human-elephant conflict in Kodagu. He said elephants are frequently entering farmlands and residential areas, leading to crop losses, property damage and, in some cases, injuries and deaths.

Farmers, plantation workers and residents living along forest fringes are bearing the brunt of the problem, he said, urging the Centre to support a comprehensive long-term mitigation strategy.

The MP proposed measures including strengthening elephant-proof barriers, expanding solar fencing, scientific monitoring of elephant movements, installation of early-warning systems, habitat improvement, deployment of rapid-response teams and adequate compensation for affected families.

Bhupender Yadav assured Yaduveer that the Ministry would examine the proposals and hold discussions with the authorities concerned to facilitate appropriate action.

HEALTH TALK

Denied, Delayed, Dead

The Cost of India's Cancer Policies

By Dr. B.S. Ajaikumar

India's cancer crisis is not defined by a lack of science. The drugs, treatments and expertise exist. And yet, patients are still dying — because the system refuses to let them access it. This is not a story about affordability alone. It is a story about denial.

Consider a 57-year-old woman diagnosed with gallbladder cancer. Her tumour mutation required a targeted therapy drug, Selumetinib, where conventional treatments had failed. But the drug was never administered because the government health insurance scheme did not cover it. She died waiting — not for science to catch up, but for policy to allow it.

Then there was a 50-year-old woman with lung cancer. Her doctors recommended Osimertinib, a breakthrough treatment that conventional chemotherapy fails to give. The approval never came at the right time.

At what point did we decide that survival should be subject to paperwork? Regulation is necessary but if there is a weapon that could help a patient fight, who are we to withhold it?

The inequities run deeper still. A painter from Raichur — someone who spent his life bringing colour to other people's homes — was diagnosed with rectal cancer. He began treatment in Bengaluru but eventually stopped coming because he ran out of the means. Each trip meant lost wages, travel, accommodation costs and the slow erosion of his family's financial stability. For him, cancer was not just a disease; it was an economic death sentence.

India prides itself on flagship health insurance schemes — CGHS, ESI, Ayushman Bharat. But what is the value of "coverage" if it excludes the very treatments that define modern cancer care? Immunotherapy, targeted therapy, genomic testing, PET-CT scans — these are no longer luxuries. They are the standard of care. Yet, for most Indians, they remain out of reach.

Every day, patients walk into hospitals believing they will receive best possible care. What they do not see are invisible barriers — policy restrictions, reimbursement ceilings, bureaucratic approvals — that quietly determine their fate.

So we must ask: Are we treating cancer or are we merely managing it within administrative limits? Because there is a difference between what patients deserve and what they receive. And that gap is costing lives.

India needs to move beyond symbolic health coverage and commit to genuine universal health care — one that reflects the realities of modern medicine. Introducing co-payment models for high-cost therapies can expand access without overwhelming public finances. Establishing structured, multidisciplinary decision-making bodies can ensure that treatment approvals are based on clinical benefit and the patients' finances. There must be regular audits to ensure approved treatments are delivered judiciously.

The question is no longer whether India can afford to do this. It is whether it can afford not to. Because when a patient dies despite the existence of a viable treatment, it is not just a personal tragedy. It is a systemic failure.

WORD OF THE DAY

Impecunious

Pronunciation: im·pe·cu·nious ˌim-pi-ˈkyü-nyəs -nē-əs (adjective)

Meaning: Having very little or no money usually habitually : PENNILESS.

Origin: If impecunious means "penniless," then it stands to reason that "pecunious" can describe someone who has a lot of money. That is true, but "pecunious" is used with far less frequency in English than its opposite and is not found in many dictionaries. What's more, on the rare occasion when "pecunious" is put to use in English, it often means not "wealthy" but "miserly or ungenerous," as in "a pecunious attitude toward the less fortunate." "Impecunious" describes somebody who lacks the money to buy necessities, but it does not carry the connotation of desperation found in such words as "indigent" or "destitute." Both "pecunious" and "impecunious" derive via Middle English from the Latin pecunia, meaning "money."

Example: They were so impecunious that they couldn't afford to give one another even token Christmas gifts.

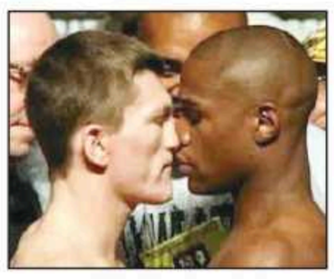
THE ODD WORD

Ichnomancy

Divination using footprints.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

In your face



Meaning: In a bold confrontational manner.

Origin: The expression 'In your face' originated in the US in the 1970s. Many of the earliest citations relate to confrontations in sport, especially initially in basketball.

The earliest use of the term in print that I can find is from Jackson and Rosen's exploration of the US basketball scene Maverick: More Than a Game, 1975: If the ball went in, they'd say, 'In your face, mother.'

It's just a display of raw ego power - one man forcing another to submit.

More recently the phrase has often been used to describe the nose-to-nose pre-fight confrontations between boxers. 'In your face' is a recent addition to a largish collection of phrases and sayings that we use about faces:

Face the music
About face
Lose face/save face
Cut off your nose to spite your face
The face that launched a thousand ships

QUOTE BOX

The face is a picture of the mind with the eyes as its interpreter.
